Omaha, Neb – Join Maestro Thomas Wilkins and the Omaha Symphony for “A Space Odyssey” Saturday, April 10 at 8 p.m. at the Holland Performing Arts Center. Fun, familiar pieces from Star Wars, Star Trek, and E.T. will take audience members on an out-of-this-world musical journey, ending with Gustav Holst’s The Planets.

Part of the Omaha Symphony’s new Sights & Sounds series, this performance includes an exciting visual element: incredible footage direct from NASA’s Jet Propulsion Laboratory, produced by Hatch Productions. Stunning images from space missions, as well as animation sequences, will be projected on a big screen above the orchestra during The Planets, creating a unique multimedia concert experience that delights ears and eyes!

The Omaha Symphony is a non-profit organization that presents more than 200 live orchestral performances from September through June. In addition to MasterWorks, Symphony Pops, Symphony Rocks, Chamber, Sights and Sounds, and Family series concerts, the orchestra tours both Nebraska and Iowa providing education and community engagement concerts and special events. For tickets or information regarding the Omaha Symphony, call 402.342.3560 or visit www.omahasymphony.org.
