Omaha, Neb – Join the Omaha Symphony for a symphonic salute to the music of Paul McCartney Saturday, May 21 at 8 p.m. at the Holland Performing Arts Center. From “Let It Be” and “Live and Let Die” to “Yesterday” and “Silly Love Songs,” the orchestra and vocalist Tony Kishman will perform McCartney’s Beatles classics and solo successes. Concertgoers will also enjoy hits like “The Long and Winding Road,” “Ob-La-Di, Ob-La-Da,” “Maybe,” and “Hey Jude.”

Kishman, an entertainer with an uncanny visual and vocal resemblance to Sir Paul, has starred for six years in both the national and international tours of Broadway’s smash hit, Beatlemania. He has been performing Twist and Shout, his award-winning tribute to the most successful band of all time, around the globe for more than a decade, bringing the music and magic of Paul McCartney and the Beatles to a new generation. Kishman has recorded for RCA Records and Mercury Records.

The Music of the Paul McCartney, part of the wildly successful Symphony Rocks series, will be conducted by Maestro Ernest Richardson. The concert is sponsored by series sponsor First National Bank and artist sponsor Upstream Brewing. For tickets to the Music of the Paul McCartney, call 402-342-3560, 402-345-0606, or visit www.omahasymphony.org. Please note: this show is likely to sell out. Seating is extremely limited.

*The Omaha Symphony is a non-profit organization that presents more than 200 live orchestral performances from September through June. In addition to MasterWorks, Symphony Pops, Symphony Rocks, Chamber, Sights and Sounds, and Family series concerts, the Omaha Symphony’s nationally recognized education programs touch the lives of more than 37,000 schoolchildren each year.
