

Nancy Chmiel is an enthusiastic professional who has dedicated 24 years of her career to the Omaha Public Library. She has worked at 11 of OPL's branches, catering to individuals of all ages. She is committed to serving diverse populations, enhancing library services, and striving to make the library welcoming to all.

Nancy's collaborative mindset, lifelong learning ethos, and dedication to community engagement drive her passion for helping people find answers. She actively fosters opportunities for learning, ensuring that the community can explore the remarkable range of offerings available in Omaha.

One of Nancy's proudest collaborations is between Omaha Public Library and the Omaha Symphony. What began as a single storytime session in a park in 2018 has evolved into innovative programs across the library system, including Meet an Omaha Symphony Musician Storytimes, the Music Evoking Stories series, and tonight's Rooted Stories event.
